Russians Take 108,000 Prisoners in Week

PUSH TREMENDOUS OFFENSIVE AGAINST TEUTONS WITH UNDIMINISHED VIGOR

Having Taken Lutsk, Russians Have Now Recaptured Dubno

Great Quantities of Guns and Other Munitions of War Have Been Taken—The Enemy is Fighting Hard Along Battle Line—In Galicia and in Bukowina Considerable Progress Has Also Been Made.

(By Morning Bulletin Leased Wire)

VIENNA, VIA LONDON, JUNE 11—THE AUSTRIAN OFFICIAL COMMUNICATION ISSUED TODAY ADMITS THE WITHDRAWAL OF THE AUSTRIAN FORCES BEFORE "A GREATLY SUPERIOR ENEMY" IN NORTHEASTERN BUKOWINA, WHERE THE FIGHTING IS EXTRAORDINARILY HEAVY.

LONDON, June 11—From the wooded region of southwest Russia to the Roumanian frontier, the Russians are keeping up their tremendous offensive against the Austro-Hungarians, who have been reinforced on several sectors by Germans. The advance of the Russians, under General Brussiloff, is notable for the large number of prisoners taken and the enormous captures of guns, machine guns, ammunition and other war stores. In the week that has elapsed since they first threw their attacks against the Austrians, the Russians report that they have captured approximately 108,000 officers and men, and forced back the organized lines of their antagonists from the region of the Volhynian fortress triangle to Roumania.

Having previously captured Lutsk, the Russians have now retaken Dubno, the second of the fortresses in the Volhynian triangle, held by the Austrians, and are pressing the retreating Austrians westward. In Galicia and Bukowina progress also has been made by the Russians.

The Austrians all along the battle front are putting up a stubborn resistance, especially east of Kolki, lying to the north of Lutsk, where they have forced back Russian advanced elements across the Styr river, and in the region of Torgovitsy, on the Styr south of Lutsk, where a sanguinary battle is in progress.

In the fighting yesterday on the front of Volhynia and Galicia, says the Russian official statement, the Russians took 400 officers and 25,000 men. They also captured thirty guns and an enormous quantity of booty. The statement adds that the army of General Techitukyn alone, operating in the direction of Czernowitz, Bukowina, overwhelmed the Austro-Hungarians and took 18,000 prisoners.

The text of the Russian official statement, issued Sunday evening, follows:

"Our offensive in Volhynia, Galicia and Bukowina obtained fresh successes yesterday. The enemy armies continue to suffer enormous losses in prisoners alone.

"The fierce attacks of our troops are throwing into our hands thousands upon thousands of prisoners and booty of all kinds, the exact estimation of which is as yet impossible.

"For instance, in a single sector on the enemy front we captured 21 searchlights, two convoys, 29 field kitchens, 47 trains of machine guns, 12,000 poods of barbed wire (a pood is equivalent to 36 pounds), 1,000 concrete planks, 7,000,000 cubes of concrete, 10,000 poods of coal, enormous depots of ammunition, great quantities of arms and other material.

"In another sector we captured 30,000 rifle cartridges, 300 boxes of machine gun cartridges, 200 boxes of hand grenades, 1,000 usable rifles, four machine guns, 2 range finders and a Norton portable pump for the extraction of drinking water.

"The capture of such enormous war materials, prepared by the enemy for various operations, affect proof of how opportune was our coup against the enemy.

"During yesterday's fighting we took as prisoners one general, 400 officers and 35,100 soldiers. We also captured 30 guns, 13 machine guns and five bomb throwers. This makes the total trophies in the recent operations one general, 1,649 officers and more than 108,000 soldiers and 124 guns, 180 machine guns, and 58 bomb throwers."

Germans Were Repulsed.

"Among the various episodes may be noted the plucky struggle of our young formations near Rojitche on the Styr, near Lutsk. Here the Germans attempted to render assistance to the Austrians, but by our counter attack, delivered under cover of heavy artillery, they were dislodged from the town, losing over 2,000 prisoners, two guns and some machine guns. Our troops pursued the retreating Germans.

"Our forces operating in the region of Dubno (one of the fortresses comprising the Volhynian triangle) captured the town and fort and are on the enemy's heels. Some Russian detachements, crossing the Ikwa River, have developed their offensive. A part of the Russians occupied the region of the village of Dubno and the Mylneff-Berestechno road, forcing the enemy at his Mylneff point of support to surrender. Besides inflicting the enemy from his principal position north of Boutchatche, we made many prisoners there, including the staff of an Austrian battalion, and also took a great quantity of arms.

"We overthrew the enemy on the Stripa, near Ostrokline, north of Boutchatche, one of our regiments captured a complete battery of four 10-centimetre mortars.

"Despite the enemy's desperate resistance, his violent flank and curtain fire, together with the explosion of mines, General Tcheikin's troops captured an enemy position south of Dubenovitze, 20 versts northeast of Czernowitz (Bukowina). In this region alone we took as prisoners one general, 347 officers and 18,000 men, and captured ten guns at the time this report is despatched prisoners are still coming in.

Austrians Are Routed.

"Southeast of Zalesczyki, by an energetic attack, we overthrew the enemy, who retreated. The enemy blew up the Yourkoutz railway station. Turkoman cavalry charged the retreating enemy and turned his retreat into disorderly rout.

"In attempt to save the situation, the enemy at many places made furious counter attacks. Among others, at dawn Saturday, in the region of Senki, east of Kolki, numerically superior enemy forces attacked our advanced elements, and under cover of a concentration of fire, forced them back over the Styr. But the same day we arrested all ulterior developments of this offensive. The enemy is retreating with special desperation in the region of Togovitsy, on the Styr, south of Lutsk, where he is fighting with sanguinary fury.

"The total results of the various attacks of our troops, carried out from the 4th to the 10th, without giving the enemy a moment's respite, place in strong relief the fact that they have forced the enemy to organized lines on the vast front from the wooded region of southwest Russia to the Roumanian frontier.

SPORTSMEN'S BATTALION REMOVE TO SARCEE CAMP

Immense Crowd Sees Boys Off at South Side C.N.R. Station Last Night—Reception Was Held on Saturday Evening—Band Instruments Costing $2300 Presented by Lloyd George Chapter I.O.D.E.

The departure of the 202nd Sportsmen's Battalion attracted last night what was one of the largest farewell-giving crowds that has yet witnessed the departure of any of the Edmonton battalions. They assembled at the C. N.R. station last night at nine o'clock to bid the men of Lt.-Col. Bowen's battalion God speed on their night ride southward to the big training camp near Calgary.

While the battalion is not yet up to strength, being a little over 700, it is made up principally of Canadian boys, representing many well-known families in the city.

Sharp on time, the first train, carrying A and B companies, left the C. N.R. platform. As the ten-coach train pulled out cheers and hurrahs of thousands rent the air. As soon as the first train faded into the dusk, the second of ten coaches was drawn in front of the long platform in readiness for C and D companies. Scheduled to leave at 10:00 sharp, such was the rush of the crowd to give the colonel and his men a farewell handshake that the wheels did not begin to roll until more than an hour until 10:02.

Standing by the side of the last coach, just previous to the shriek of the engine whistle and the all-aboard cry, Col. Bowen, Major Young, Capt. Sterne and a few fellow officers, together with "Dot" W. B. Brown and a number of C.N.R. officials, courteously waited the few minutes extra to give everyone a chance for the hasty farewell along the coaches to the boys entrained. This opportunity was improved into the fullest by the spectators before the guard mounted the platform and the train pulled slowly away.

Among the C.N.R. officials who accompanied the men southward were Supt. W. Brown of the western lines; Supt. Murphy, Supt. Thompson and Norquay, Supt. O'Donnell of Edmonton. Four baggage cars were in attendance to carry the effects of the troops.

Reception Saturday Night.

Lighted by Chinese lanterns strung throughout the entire length of the building, and decorated with bunting, including British ensigns, Union Jacks and "Old Glory," the South Side rink was the scene on Saturday night of the "At Home" of the 202nd Battalion, which was attended by a large concourse of Edmonton's citizens who

HUGHES AND FAIRBANKS ARE CHOSEN

Will Lead Republicans—Roosevelt and Parker Chosen For Progressives

(By Morning Bulletin Leased Wire)

CHICAGO, June 11.—Saturday Charles Evans Hughes and Charles Warren Fairbanks were nominated for president and vice-president by the Republican National convention on the third ballot. Theodore Roosevelt was nominated by acclamation for president and John M. Parker, of Louisiana, for vice-president by the Progressives. Hughes accepts the Republican nomination, giving out a statement in which he made clear his position in national and international affairs.

Justice Hughes, in his telegram of acceptance, attacked the Wilson administration, especially the foreign policy and particularly Mexico. Touching on the hyphen, Justice Hughes in his telegram said:

"I stand for an Americanism that knows no ulterior purpose; for a patriotism that is single and complete. Whether native or naturalized, of whatever race or creed, we have but one course and we do not for an instant tolerate any division of allegiance."

Col. Roosevelt sent a tentative declination of the nomination, with the understanding that it was to stand if Hughes turned out to be sound on the issues of Americanism and prepared-ness and that if Hughes turned out to be "pacifistic, pussy-footed or pro-German," he would make the race as the Progressive candidate.

The Republican and Progressive parties have been united, according to the claim, under judgment of the Progressive leaders, who, although disappointed that their idol, Theodore Roosevelt, was not accepted by the Republicans, are prepared to follow the advice of their leader and work for the defeat of President Wilson through the medium of one opposition ticket.

The Progressive delegates, who, through four tumultous days gave an exhibition of loyalty and devotion to their leader, left for their homes last night still shouting for "Teddy," but convinced in their hearts Roosevelt will not accept the Progressive nomination and will ask his supporters to get behind the Republican candidate.

Everywhere among Republican politicians appears to be a disposition to believe that Col. Roosevelt will give his support to the Hughes-Fairbanks ticket.

The Third Ballot.

The roll call for the third ballot at the Republican convention was as follows:

Alabama: Hughes 16.
Arizona: Hughes 5; Roosevelt 1.
Arkansas: Hughes 15.

BRITISH LINES BOMBARDED AGAIN HEAVILY

Positions Were Shelled On Saturday and Sunday Afternoons

GERMANS' ATTACKS REPULSED AT VERDUN

Austro - Hungarian Troops Make Massed Attacks On Italians

(By Morning Bulletin Leased Wire)

LONDON, June 12.—The British official statement issued at midnight reads:

"Since last night the Ypres salient has again been the chief scene of activity. On the southern portion of it —from Hill 60 to a point about 1,500 yards north, the enemy shelled our trenches heavily for about three hours this afternoon. The bombardment was preceded in the morning by the shelling of the town of Ypres and the back area southward. North of the Menin road our trenches were shelled intermittently throughout the day. There were no infantry actions during the day on this front, beyond an attempt by the enemy to rush one of our blocking posts in Sanctuary Wood. This was repulsed.

"Saturday the chief centre of activity was about Ypres where there was a heavy artillery bombardment. Our trenches north of the Ypres-Comines railway were heavily shelled from one to three o'clock in the afternoon and hostile artillery has been active throughout the day against our positions west of Hooge. There have been no infantry actions in this region."

COMPLETELY CHECK GERMAN ATTACKS

PARIS, June 11.—Three German infantry attacks against the French trenches on Hill 304 and the positions east of that elevation in the Verdun sector were completely checked last night by the French troops, says the official statement issued at the war department here this afternoon. The German detachments penetrated the French advanced trenches in the forest of Avocourt, southeast of Malancheil, the statement adds, but were later ejected.

GERMAN VERSION OF VERDUN FIGHT

BERLIN, June 11, via London.—Violent artillery fighting is in progress on both sides of the river Meuse, north of the French fortress of Verdun, according to the German official statement issued here today. The Germans have added three cannon and seven machine guns to the booty taken by them on the east bank of the river.

ITALY TO HAVE NEW CABINET

Premier Salandra Resigns Following Defeat on Want of Confidence Motion

(By Morning Bulletin Leased Wire)

LONDON, June 11.—The Italian cabinet headed by Premier Salandra resigned today. This action of the ministry resulted from the failure of the government to obtain a vote of confidence in the government following the presentation of the budget at the opening of the session.

ROME, June 11.—All parties agree that the new Italian cabinet must have a national character. It is suggested that it comprise all the leading statesmen, with a view to uniting in the supreme struggle all political opinions, except that of the intransigeant Socialists, about forty of whom oppose war at any price. It would be all sides a rapid solution of the crisis is urged, owing to the gravity of the moment.

King Victor Emmanuel besides consulting Antonio Salandra, the resigning premier, will seek the views of Baron Sonino, the foreign minister, the presidents of the senate and the chamber of deputies, and the wearers of the collar of the order of Annunziata, including ex-Premier Giolotti and Luzzatti.

Biggest Casualty List Issued Since War Began

Five Hundred and Eighty-one Men Are Mentioned in Reports From Ottawa on Sunday—In Past Week List of Edmonton Men in Casualties Numbers More Than Sixty, Thirteen of Whom Were Killed in Action.

War's heaviest toll of Edmonton men since the beginning of the great conflict has been recorded during the past week. Within the past seven days more than sixty men who two years ago were pursuing their peaceful pursuits in the business and home life of this city have been reported in the Canadian casualty lists, which bring the war closer home to many than any other thing could possibly do.

The heroic part played by the Canadians in the recent fighting around Hooge, which has been described as the fiercest episode of the whole war, cost heavily in lives lost and men wounded. Western regiments appear to have borne the worst of the brunt of the battle, and Edmonton sons have played their part, many of them making the supreme sacrifice for the cause which is just.

Yesterday's casualty list was the heaviest since the war began—581 names being recorded—and the indications are that not all have yet been received. Of the Edmonton men reported in the past week, 13 were killed in action, 1 died of disease, 1 died of wounds, 1 died, 36 were killed in action, 19 dead of wounds, 1 dead of sickness, 8 seriously ill, 36 missing, 1 wounded and missing, 9 previously reported missing now prisoner of war, 1 previously reported missing, now officially prisoner of war, 1 previously unofficially reported prisoner of war now missing, and 469 wounded.

Saturday afternoon a list of 120 casualties was issued, of which 13 were as follows: 13 killed in action, 7 dead of wounds, 1 dead of sickness, 2 seriously ill. 4 missing, 1 previously reported killed in action now with unit, 1 previously reported unofficially now officially prisoner of war and 101 wounded.

DEATH OF KITCHENER IS THE SUBJECT IN CITY CHURCHES

Emphasis Laid Upon Devotion Which Great Leader Had Always Given to His Duties, Even Down to Smallest Detail—Special Memorial Service is Held at All Saints Pro-cathedral.

The death of Earl Kitchener formed the theme of special reference by the preachers in many of the city churches throughout the Sunday services. These and the sympathetic manner in which they were received by the large congregations, help to show how the empire mourns the loss of the great single-minded leader whose work for the Empire was cut off in so sudden a fashion. At All Saints' Pro-Cathedral a special memorial service was held at All Saints' Pro-Cathedral, and in all other churches the preachers made allusion to it either morning or evening service. The work of the dead was extolled, and the greatest stress placed upon the example which Earl Kitchener had always given to his duties, down even to the smallest detail. And this point was impressed upon the congregations. Earl Kitchener's death was but another lesson, bringing home to all that God alone was the One Great Commander, and to Him alone must they look for help and to His wisdom the final verdict.

All Saints' Pro-Cathedral.

To realize that above an earthly head the principle is set up, that under Ruler, in whose hands are the destinies of men and nations, was the lesson forth by the rector, Archdeacon, which the, Rt. Rev. Bishop Legal, in his sermon to the congregation at the memorial service of All Saints' Pro-Cathedral yesterday afternoon, in the words that he had frequently drawn attention to the fact that the principle of Christianity and in this war was that in spite of our might and power, above all there was the hand of God before which all these things were as naught. With the approach of the war, he would say that God had taken him thus early to his reward, but the principle remains the events which followed, that above all was the Eternal Father, who alone ruled their destinies, and in whom, above all, their trust must be placed.

Revered Adherence to Duty

In his first allusion to the dead leader, Bishop Gray said that they had gathered to offer a memorial of prayer for one who had been the staff and stand-by of the nation ever since the war began and long before. They had been in the habit of looking to such leaders as theirs to inspire adherence to duty and to appreciate, if they did not actually admire, the stern cast of character which resulted in a fair and outward sign of the character which would not allow political intrigue, the work of the press, or popular clamour, to interfere with his trust, or with the refinement of the objects with which he had been entrusted. When the churches came at the end there were many whose hearts weakened with the fear that our entire support had been taken.

Proceeding, the preacher pointed out, in the words given above to show that the event was one which had its direct message, telling them that confidence must not be placed in men or armies, but in the One above, who rules all things.

He besought his hearers to raise a memorial to the dead by striving to rise to greater heights of Godliness as a nation, to cleanse themselves from all evil, to banish all political influences, and so shape their end as a nation, that those who had fallen would not cry out from their graves that they had been betrayed.

Then he asked God to give them His Holy Spirit, and the strength and courage that they might fulfill their part, that the leaders and servants of the Empire, but as soldiers and servants of the greater empire of which they were made a part at their baptism.

At the end of the address, "God Save the King" was sung by all, then the Dead March and Saul, arranged as a triate hymn, "O God, Our Help in Ages Past," and the service close by organist, A. Vernon Barford played Chopin's "Funeral March."

A very large congregation was present, the church being crowded almost to overflowing, in addition to a contingent of officers and men from the 218th Battalion (Irish Guards), a number of officers and men representing other regiments were in attendance, the military element being a very outstanding feature of the congregation.

The clergy who took part were the

EYEWITNESS' STORY OF FIGHT AROUND HOOGE

Front and Support Trenches in Many Places Obliterated

BOTH MERCER AND WILLIAMS WOUNDED

Counter Attacks Recover Ground and Line is Reorganized

LT.-COL. W. A. GRIESBACH IS GIVEN D. S. O. MEDAL.

OTTAWA, June 11.—The following awards have been made to officers and men for gallantry on the occasion of a German raid on our trenches during the month of May:

Distinguished Service Order: Lieut.-Col. Griesbach, 49th Battalion. Distinguished Conduct Medal: Company-Sergt.-Major C. Miles.

Military Medal: Sergt. J. Wallis, Carp. F. Bennett, Private A. I. Richmond and Private G. W. Tomkinson.

(By Morning Bulletin Leased Wire)

OTTAWA, June 11.—The following casualties have been received from the Canadian general headquarters at the front:

Canadian Corps Headquarters in France, via London, June 11.—During the first week of the month heavy fighting occurred on the Canadian front. Early in the morning of June 2 the enemy opened a tremendous bombardment opposite the area of our left division. The weight of fire was greater than any hitherto experienced by the Canadian troops, and, in spite of the retaliation of our artillery, continued to steadily increasing volume for four hours.

The front and support trenches were severely damaged and in many places obliterated. Entanglements were destroyed, and the smoke and fumes of thousands of bursting shells, high explosives, gas and (tear producing, hung heavily in the air, and rendered observation almost impossible.

Both Were Wounded

Major-Gen. M. S. Mercer, C.B., and Brig.-Gen. W. A. S. Williams had arrived in time to inspect the front works on this morning. These generals were caught in the bombardment and, unfortunately both are missing. It is reported that when last seen Gen. Mercer had been struck on the head by a flying sand bag and Gen. Williams wounded in the face.

All along the line our troops clung to their ground or threw themselves with the greatest gallantry. When the bombardment ceased the enemy advanced and everywhere encountered desperate resistance. At various points there was fierce hand-to-hand fighting. Officers and men rivalled each other in heroism. Our losses were heavy, but the Germans paid a high price for every captured trench.

Lost Ground Recovered.

Local counter attacks were quickly organized. As a result some of the lost ground was recovered and a new line established.

The following morning an organized counter attack still further improved our position.

In order to take part in this operation, some of our battalions were obliged to move across the open under intense shell fire and through heavy barrages, sweeping all the line waver. Each battalion advanced and carried through its appointed task with splendid dash and unflinching determination.

Since then sections of our defences have been subjected at intervals to heavy bombardments. At one or two points the enemy has attempted to attack, but in each case has been repulsed with loss.

The game went 15 innings and finally was won by the Mortons, 4 to 3.

Germans made three attacks near Verdun but all are repulsed.

Canadian casualties issued yesterday make biggest list since war began. Include 581 names.

Over the Tea Cups

Hon. Wilfrid Gariepy and Mrs. Gariepy returned on Saturday from a month's visit to Eastern Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Shaw, Wetaskiwin, are in town guests at the Macdonald.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Fleck, Vancouver, are guests at the Macdonald.

Major Anson Dulmage, who has been some heavy fighting has returned to Canada to be placed in charge of the camp at Sewell.

Inspector Townshend, R.N.W.M.P. Stettler, is in town, a guest at the Macdonald.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Beethal, Vegreville, were spending a few days in town. They have returned home.

Mrs. Ambrose Dickins has returned home from a delightful holiday spent with friends in Winnipeg, Portage la Prairie and Calgary. Mrs. Dickins is in the best of health and spirits after her holiday.

There is no doubt but what there will be a good attendance of the fair sex at the gymkhana which is being held this Monday night in horse show building, under the auspices of the 218th battalion (Irish Guards) as one of the prominent numbers is a musical ride in which the children on their ponies take part. They have been very faithfully practicing for this occasion and under the able direction of Mrs. Jones they assert should prove of intense interest. The ladies' jump will also be a feature and the pair jumping (lady and gentleman) will be really an additional novelty.

The Red Cross Society received a very handsome gift Saturday from Mr. J. J. Murray of the Murray Seed Co., consisting of 2,000 lovely pansy blooms, to be cut from 2,000 plants of the Harper pansy, for which the Murray Co. is famous. The committee have lately heard from those ladies that there is great need for more of those comfortable hospital suits that the convalescent soldiers wear, so they decided to sell the pansies to the public next Tuesday, and devote the proceeds to the purchase of the suits.

There is to be a specially well selected musical program put on at the Macdonald on Sunday afternoon. The concert will run from 3 p.m. to 10.30 p.m. The merits of the Macdonald orchestra under the direction of Earle C. Hill are too well known to need pointing out here. The program of the concert is as follows:

March—"Guard of Honor"..Anderson
Overture—"Il Guarany"..Gomez
Waltz—"Tres Jolie"..Waldteufel
Fantasia—"Carmen"..Bizet
Request..
"Ballet Egyptienne"..Luigini
Serenade..Cesek
Selection—"The Only Girl"..Herbert

Patriotic Fantasia..
"God Save the King."

Visitor—I think it's just wonderful to see you cheery with all those horrid wounds on your head.

Wounded Optimist—Oh, well, mebbe it's a very cheerin' thing to wake up of a mornin' an' find that you've still got a 'ead to 'ave wounds on.

She will give her own abridgement of Baronbes Orczy's "I Will Repay"—a story of the French revolution. THE MARKET IN OUR MIDST
(Contributed)

The housewives of Edmonton are anticipating June 20th when the plebiscite regarding the erection of an inexpensive market building on Dominion Square, Rice street, will come up for your decision along with the money bylaws.

Now that the city council has given the ratepayers of Edmonton an opportunity to express themselves in regard to this all important question of a market, centrally located, we hope and feel that every ratepayer will be ready to do his part to make our city the progressive centre, comparing favorably with other western cities.

Poor market facilities are keeping many farmers from our market, as well as from our city. Since business does not bring them to Edmonton they are content to purchase their supplies from the nearby towns. A well attended market two days each week will be a boon to the merchants and consumers here.

Now that the opportunity is ours, let us not be found wanting. Let every man and woman who has appreciated his voice in municipal affairs sufficiently to have registered last year, think this market problem out for himself and vote to make Edmonton a prosperous, active centre with a busy down town market.

BEVERLY BRIEFS

Dr. Atkinson, medical health officer, paid a visit to the Beverly school, Friday and completed his inspection for the year.

The grading on Alberta avenue and Beverly Crescent is now completed and most of the teams have been moved to Kenwood avenue, where they have a good start towards the levelling of that thoroughfare.

The Spinsters convention announced for last Wednesday evening, was a decided success, a packed house put the "Spinsters" on their mettle and they acquitted themselves splendidly in their various roles. A tidy sum was realized for the funds of the Presbyterian church.

It was thought sometime ago that Beverly had completed its quota of soldiers that it possibly could, but this week sees no more good citizens in khaki. Mr. Edwin Weir having joined the engineering corps and Mr. H. Hensley the 202nd. Both these recruits have sons at the front, Mr. Weir is prominent in church and municipal circles, being superintendent of the Presbyterian Sunday school and a town councillor. Mr. Weir next week goes to their training camps, we wish them a successful examination and a safe return to Beverly after their trip to Berlin.

Notices are posted for the nomination on Monday, June 12th, of two councillors to fill the vacancies caused by the resignation of Councillors Bland and Jordan—both having joined the colors. In the event of a poll being necessary it takes place June 19th.

At the Metropolitan Methodist Epworth Sunday morning school the service is in charge of the Civics department which has been very fortunate in securing Dr. Cornelius for an Extension Department of the University, who will give an address on "The Life and Times of Shakespeare," specializing on "The Merchant of Venice," and "Macbeth," illustrated with lantern slides. All young people are invited.

DANDRUFF AND ERUPTION ON HEAD

Healed by Cuticura Trial Free

"I suffered very much with dandruff and eruption and I had a bad eruption on my head. My hair would fall out in handfuls and it became thin and dry, and split at the ends. At night I would be troubled very much and my hair would fall out during the night. I was almost frantic with the itching.

"I read of Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I bought some, and after I had used two boxes of Cuticura Ointment and the Cuticura Soap my head was healed, and my hair stopped falling out." (Signed) Miss M. L. Hocquard, West Pespebiac, Quebec, Dec. 15, 1915.

BRITISH STAFF REGRETS LOSSES BUT SALIENT TOO VALUABLE TO ABANDON

Ypres Positions Must be Held at All Costs—Teutons Suffer Heavier Losses Than Canadians Owing to Spirited Defense of the Dominion Troops—Over 6,000 Gallant Canadians Fall

London, June 10—"It was only by a lucky accident," says a Daily News correspondent in France, "that when Generals Mercer and Williams fell into the enemy's hands the other day Sir Julian Byng, the corps commander himself, was not captured too, as he had intended accompanying General Mercer into the trenches that morning."

Montreal, June 10—"In view of the heavy losses sustained during the past two weeks by the Canadian forces in defending the position known as the Ypres salient," says the Gazette's Ottawa correspondent in a dispatch dated last night, "nothing has been made by the Canadian authorities of the British general staff if this position could not be abandoned. The information obtained in reply is that the position is absolutely necessary to be held, notwithstanding the serious losses involved. It is thought necessary to defend it.

The German losses in the various attacks, according to the information given have been larger than those of the Canadians and at one time, when the British line where the eifmans have attacked the losses on both sides were heavy.

"No additional details of the fighting have been received by the militia department but an eye witness account of the fighting, cabled from Ottawa by Max Aitken in a few days. The losses, according to the latest official statement, have been over a thousand of all ranks."

BIRD WOMAN IS COMING TO CITY

Only Woman Who Has Mastered Loop Manoeuvre Will be Seen at Exhibition

Katherine Stinson, twenty years old, is a pioneer in her own way. She has shared in the glory of the aviator, herself in enviable reputation from the Gulf of Mexico to the Arctic and from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Miss Stinson is a "bird woman" in the truest sense of the word. She mounts her 80 horse power 75 miles an hour birdlike and remains in the clouds, literally here and there like a swallow, during feats which even the swallow would not attempt, and always coming out all right.

Between times she returns to her home in San Antonio, Texas, where with her brother and sister she conducts she conducts a school of aviation. Canadians anxious for fame at the front go to Katherine for preliminary instructions in aeronautics. She has a few hundred pupils now on the firing line. Many of the men across the Mexican border are graduates of the Stinson school. She now offers her services to the government as an army aviator in keeping with the progressive program of others of her sex. She longed to fly for the U.S. army in Mexico, but General Funston only smiled. Then she told him that some of his own relatives were her pupils.

Awaiting her opportunity to do bigger things, Miss Stinson travels from place to place, showing what she can do with her aeroplane. She is the only woman in the world who has ever mastered the loop manoeuvre. She has looped the loop more than a thousand times and never had an accident.

Katherine Stinson is coming to Edmonton this summer just to prove to you that she is perfectly capable of teaching the Canadian men who go to her for instructions in flying. She will perform at the Edmonton exhibition, July 10th-15th.

CITY IN DANGER OF MORE FLOODS

City Commissions Considering Erection of Protecting Wall at Power Plant

Reports have been received by the commissioners to the effect that Edmonton may have to undergo the experience of another flood this year.

The danger arises from the fact that spring is late, and also that there is more snow on the mountains than has been known for some time past, and with hot sunshine coming suddenly it may mean the swelling of the river to flood limits, as was the flood began on June 29th at Edmonton.

The commissioners are considering the question of proceeding with the protection of the power plant without delay. An estimate has already been submitted for building a protection wall at the plant and other work at a cost of $2,100, and council will be asked on Tuesday to pass this expenditure at once.

ALBERTA LANDS ARE ATTRACTION TO MANY FARMERS

Low Taxation on Provincial Farms Cause of Amazement to Prospective Settlers

"No wonder the Germans want to get you," was the exclamation of a Minnesota farmer on Saturday when H. S. Hotchkiss, the chief publicity commissioner of the department of agriculture, informed him of the rate of taxation in Alberta.

"These people coming here cannot understand," explained Mr. Hotchkiss "why the land is free. They seem to think there is something back of it; that the taxation is high, so when I told this man that the taxes in Alberta ranged from 12 to 35 a quarter section he was amazed. Why," said he "I pay from $111 to $150."

During the past two days some thirty-four prospective settlers have passed through Mr. Hotchkiss' office, all bound for the Peace River country to investigate its possibilities. Nine were from Washington, 3 from Dakota, 5 from Minnesota, 7 from Ontario, 3 from Manitoba, 5 from Saskatchewan and 2 from British Columbia.

"They are a fine class of settlers," said Mr. Hotchkiss," cheerfully and optimistic; who know the agricultural game and know where the north country has no terrors either as to the hardships of pioneer life or as to climate. "I don't care if its 60 below said one of them. I'm tired of the hot south." Another one of the men from Minnesota informed me that he had large commissioned him and that he was the representative of 11 or 12 real Minnesota farmers who are coming to Alberta. The man will look over the Peace country first but will come back to Edmonton and may locate in the central section of the province."

"It's the big crop last year that has been the drawing card," Mr. Hotchkiss added. "The news of it has percolated through the ownership of the real estate men to the farmers and the land that can produce 50 bushels of wheat to the acre; an average of 35 bushels with a 60 million crop; and 100 bushels of oats is attracting not only the farmers from across the border, but from other provinces in the Dominion."

Speaking of the climate Mr. Hotchkiss stated that he had come to the conviction that we should glorify our cold climate instead of apologizing for it; and he added that the department was seriously considering the proposition of offering a substantial prize for the best essay on our northern winters.

ANOTHER VARSITY STUDENT KILLED ON YPRES FRONT

Lieut. Howard T. Taylor Went With Draft of 51st Battalion From Sarcee Camp

Lieut. Howard T. Taylor, reported killed in the fighting at the Ypres front on June 6, and whose address in the casualty list was given as Regina, was a son of T. Taylor, of 10159 116th street, who is in the service of the C.N.R.

Lieut. Taylor was a student of the University of Alberta, when he enlisted with the 51st Battalion, and went with this unit to Sarcee camp. He crossed to England with a draft to Shorncliffe, and was sent to France with the 5th Battalion.

PRESENT DEMAND TO GREECE.

The British minister to Greece, in the name of the entente powers, presented to the Greek government the demands constituting the conditions upon which the blockade would be raised. As an outcome of the energetic measures adopted by the allied governments, the demobilization of a part of the Greek army is already under way.

PRESBYTERIAN MINORITY IS TO FIGHT UNIONISTS

Organize Secret Committee to Carry Battle to the Legislatures

Winipeg, June 10.—The Winnipeg Telegram says today:

At a secret meeting today of Presbyterian anti-unionists, held in a room in Westminster church, it was decided to organize to fight the unionists, who today secured a decisive victory.

The committee, which is known as the "committee for continuance of the Presbyterian church," has come to the conclusion that they have no hope of winning in a fight in the assembly. They therefore decided to carry their battle to the legislatures when a division of property is begun between those presbyteries who are willing to protect their interests with the Methodists and Congregationalists, and those who prefer to remain independently Presbyterian.

This action indicates that no compromise will be accepted, and that the split over church union is definite and irremedial.

EARL KITCHENER VOICED BELIEF OF AN EARLY END

Thought War Would Close Sooner Than Expected—Britain Shares Opinion

New York, June 10—A special cable to the New York American from A. G. Gardiner, editor of the London Daily News, says:

"I am told on good authority that a few days before the end came upon him he was swiftly and silently. Earl Kitchener said he had revised his estimate of the duration of the war.

"He had now decided it would last three years; No., he said, he thought the termination was excessive and that he looked for an earlier close.

"The enormous impetus of events during the last few days give force to this prediction. There is on all sides a feeling of imminence of final things."

Bon-Opto (Imp Ons of Toronto, will fill the above prescription for any druggist that cannot.

A prominent City Physician to whom the above article was submitted, said: "Bon-Opto is one of the best known remedies for weak eyes, as the ingredients are well known to druggists and widely prescribed by them. It can be obtained from any good druggist and is one of the very few proprietary remedies I have ever used for regular use in almost every family."

Boy Is Injured—Charles Osborne, a boy of nine, whose relatives reside at Wabamun, is under treatment at the Misericordia hospital for an injury sustained at the Wabamun depot on Thursday afternoon. The front part of his right foot was crushed, but Dr. T. C. Conn, under whose care he is, states that the case has no dangerous symptoms unless blood poisoning sets in. It appears that the boy fell in the usual manner the boy fell on the track when the train was entering the depot. He was immediately attended by Dr. Anderson, of Wabamun, and later taken to the hospital by the doctor and relatives.

Boys Acknowledge Gifts.—At the regular session of the Highlands Methodist Sunday school yesterday letters were read from Corporal T. H. Page, Victor H. Robinson, acknowledging the receipt and expressing their appreciation for the copy each had received of the Testament from the Highlands Sunday school while on active service in France. Both expressed the hope that ere long they would be able to return and attend the Sunday school again. At the close a special meeting was held of the officers of management of the Sunday school to consider the holding of a decoration day Friday, July 7th. A motion endorsing the Sunday school union excursion to Wabamun Lake on that date was almost unanimously adopted, and all members are urged to arrange to attend.

MEMORIAL SERVICE AT HOLY TRINITY

Tributes to Late Lt. G. S. Fife, First of University Staff to Give His Life

LOCAL PAGE E MEMORIAL SERV

A memorial service was held at Holy Trinity church on Sunday morning for Lieut. Gordon Stanley Fife, a member of the P. P. C. L. I., who fell in the fighting on the 14th. The chancel, pit, lectern and sanctuary were draped in black. The men of the arts faculty, Prof. W. A. R. Kerr, represented the university, and read the lesson. The principal mourners present were the parents of Lieut. Fife, Mr. and Mrs. A. Fife, and the Misses Fife, while Lieut. Max Fife, brother, was present with the University of Alberta Company, of the 196th Battalion, which paraded in a body to the church under command of Capt. McLeod.

At the close of the service the Dead March was played by Miss Louise Moore, organist of the church. Immediately following three buglers of the University Company sounded the last post. As the plaintive notes were pealing through the building many of the large congregation were moved to tears. The offertory was taken up by Lieut. Fife, Lieut. Wood, Lieut. Miller and Lieut. McKenzie. The sermon was preached by Rev. C. Carruthers, rector of the church. He sketched the career of Lieut. Fife, the first Rhodes scholar from Alberta, and the first member of the faculty of the university to fall in this war. He showed how we are fighting for our honor, our country and our faith, and that no life, however valuable, given for these vital things is spent in vain.

JOIN THE 101ST EDMONTON FUSILIERS.

In view of the condition of affairs now prevailing in Great Britain where-in all available men are entirely withdrawn from the ordinary walks of life every man is expected and must be increasingly apparent to Canadians which way their duty lies. For many of the men now joining there is no question but that they are utmost to train themselves, and to assist in the training of others, for future eventualities.

The regiment grows apace but needs every available man. New uniforms will soon improve its appearance and a moderate supply of rifles will immediately increase its efficiency. A comprehensive scheme of drill and field operations is in course of development. The time to join is now and you will have no cause to regret the devotion of a few evenings a week to so excellent a purpose.

THE CITY HALL

Complaint Abbut Employee.

Certain allegations were made as to the characteristics of a former employee at a meeting of the commissioners, which called forth considerable strong censure. The man, it was stated, had at times been employed to collect rentals on the Jasper block. It is alleged, his bearing towards those whom he was called upon to deal with had not been marked by excessive civility or even ordinary politeness. In certain cases the methods had reached to point of crude originality, which, while not successful, were highly distasteful to those he selected for the victims of his attentions. In selecting a certain sum to collect, it is alleged that the man waited upon the victims had visitors or were otherwise entertaining, then placing round his hat a band of crape, and the inscription "for ol Bad Debts," he seated himself comfortably on the doorstep and waited. It is presumed that he did not have to stay long for the money, but at the same time the method never successful it may work out, is not one to be kept in the employ of citizens.

Legal Expenses Large.

The commissioners have received a letter from Mrs. Dr. Watson, which was awarded a sum for damages against the city by reason of a street car accident. Mrs. Watson wants to know how much she is entitled to receive stating that the city never papers she gathered that she was to be paid a certain quantity of cash. She alleges that something like $800 has been deducted for legal expenses. A statement will be returned to Mrs. Watson, showing that she was entitled to receive $500 from the city.

Complaint of Incinerator.

A complaint has been made to the commissioners concerning a smoke nuisance from paper being destroyed in a private incinerator. The commissioners, however, cannot take action in the matter, and the remedy rests in the hands of the parties concerned, who are at liberty to take action against the offenders. So far as the fire department comes into the question, their work is to see that any accumulation of paper or similar rubbish does not represent danger to buildings.

Get Many Offers.

The commissioners are receiving quite a number of offers to rent the old D. G. Latta building on 98th street. At the present time a portion of the building is rented for $12.50 per month. Now two other firms offer $35 per month for the entire premises. Certainly, both ask for certain repairs and improvements, and on account of this the decision stands over for a while, the question being to see which is the better offer of the two, as well as any outlay on the part of the city that is required.

Registration Materials.

Comptroller Mouat reports that certain materials used in connection with the yearly registration have disappeared through there not being any responsible person in charge. It is suggested that all material used in the registration be placed in the charge of the purchasing clerk for safe keeping until next registration. This was agreed to by the commissioners.

Dr. Whiteiaw at Cemetery.

Dr. Whitelaw drew attention to the need for a telephone at the Beechmount Cemetery for the convenience of the undertakers. A telephone will be placed at the residence of the caretaker, at 11343 80th street.

Saving on Insurance Premiums.

The city has to maintain a watchman at the exhibition grounds. If they put in a clock which will check the watchmen on his rounds through the premises, it Will mean a saving of $170 annually in insurance paid. The clock will cost about $175, and the commissioners have decided to have one installed.

Can Sell Motor Bike.

The building inspector's department own a Flying Merkle motor bicycle for which an offer of $100 cash has been received. Superintendent Jardine, of the city garage, reports that the offer is a fair one, and the commissioners have sanctioned the sale.

Tenders For Scrap Metal.

Tenders for 85 tons of scrap metal at the power house have been received by the commissioners as follows: C. S. Cuthbert $3 per ton; J. M. Criddall $405 for the whole of the metal; Edmonton Junk Company, $3 per ton; Calgary Scrap Iron and Metal Company $350. The tenders were referred to the controller for consideration.

Tender For Uniforms Accepted.

The tender of Tipp & Co., for uniforms for the fire department will be been accepted at the following rates: 6 double-breasted coats at $20 each; 12 single-breasted coats at $20 each; 80 pairs of pants at $5.50 each.

Can Buy Motor Bike.

The commissioners gave Superintendent Jardine permission to purchase the motor bicycle belonging to the department for a lighter machine of the same make. The department will be obtaining a new machine in place of their second-hand one, without any cash payment.

MONDAY, JUNE 13, 1916.

What President Wilson wants is the suppression of lawlessness in Northern Mexico. What Carranza wants is the adhesion of the lawless element.

President Wilson enunciates the principle of political economy in a way that does credit to his attainments as a scholar and a rhetorician. His troubles at home and abroad come mostly from the fact that the world is not governed by political economy.

Whatever it may signify, there is quite a difference between the language in which a group of new German soldiers were admonished to "be Huns" in the process of subjecting the world and the language in which German officials and newspapers are now proclaiming that the Allies are the aggressors in a war for the subjugation of Germany.

One result of the North Sea battle is that the high seas fleet will be in the repair shop during the season when it might otherwise be bombarding the Russian positions on the Baltic coast. Those who have been claiming that the British were saving themselves and leaving their Allies to do the hevay fighting are due to take note of this fact. There is nothing in the situation to suggest that it was necessary to the safety of England itself that the British fleet should have gone into the enemy's waters to fight a costly engagement at a disadvantage. The British commanders, it is fair to assume, had the Russian position at Riga in mind when they resolved to try to cripple the enemy's fleet under most unfavorable conditions.

Taken together our four civic utilities have a combined deficit of over six hundred thousand dollars. The situation is really less satisfactory than that. There is no reason why the utilities should be lumped together and the deficits of some offset by the surplus of another. The street railway, waterworks and telephone systems have among them a deficit of $788,000. The electric lighting and power department has a surplus of 173,000. But to subtract the one amount from the other and quote the remainder as showing the position of the four utilities is confusing, and to a certain extent deluding. The surplus of the electric light and power department is not being piled up to offset those annually the losses of the other utilities. To do that would be to "soak" the users of electric light and power for losses on the other services. Presumably the surplus of the electric light and power department is being piled up for purposes of that department alone, either to replace worn-out equipment or to buy equipment for new extensions. To divert its surplus to make up the loss in another department would be a misuse of funds. There is no advantage in doing on paper what could not be done in fact. Each utility must stand by itself, and on its own feet. The use of one is paying its way does not affect the fact that another is losing money. Instead of segregating all the utilities, in making a study of the financial position, they should be separated and dealt with individually. And taken this way the fact is that three of them are behind-hand more than three-quarters of a million dollars. How to get each of these on its feet is a problem. And there is no advantage in disguising the fact by associating them in thought with a totally distinct and separate enterprise that is accumulating a surplus on its own operation and for its own use.

On the twentieth of this month the tax-payers of the city are being asked to approve two money by-laws, aggregating two million six hundred thousand dollars. The passing of these by-laws is necessary if the city is to take advantage of the power obtained at the recent session of the Legislature to issue short debentures against the arrears of taxes for 1914 and 1915. For arrears of previous years a tax sale is to be held this fall. The debentures, it is proposed, shall fall due two years hence, and it is part of the conditions imposed by the Legislature that no further tax sale can be held until that time. The money is not required for future needs, but for present liabilities. Last year the city was unable to pay the School Board the proportion of the year's taxes due it, and the board was obliged to borrow for the year's outlay. This year the city is paying the School Board's money, but is borrowing the money. The proceeds of the debentures, it is understood, would enable the city to square its account at the bank, including the annual swing by the School Board, and would make it possible to finance through the next two years with the proportion of the tax levies which may be expected to come in. Issuing the debentures, instead of merely borrowing money to pay a debt, but it is the only power the Legislature was willing to grant the city. The alternative for the tax-payers is therefore plain and simple. It is to use the means available, or to let things take their course—whatever that may be. Just what it would be there is a large measure of uncertainty. But it seems entirely likely that it would be some course far less pleasant to the individual tax-payer and far less helpful to the city's credit. It is not likely that we can go on borrowing as a floating debt from the banks and other possessors indefinitely. In fact it is quite likely that we cannot. If that is the situation, then to refuse to endorse the by-laws would mean either that the schools and other civic services would have to be shut down or that the money to continue them must be collected. Though the Legislature refused the city power to collect by tax sale in respect of back year's arrears and those of the year before, there is means provided by the charter by which this could be done. The charter provides that: "The taxes due upon any land may be recovered by action from any owner or tenant originally assessed therefor, and from any subsequent owner of the whole or part thereof, saving his recourse against any other person liable." And such taxes shall be a special "lien upon the land and shall be collectable by action or distraint in priority to every claim, privilege or incumbrance of any person except the Crown in the right and its priority shall not be lost or impaired by any neglect, omission or error of any officer of the city." The production of a copy "of so much of the roll as relates to the taxes payable by any person in the city certified as a true copy by the assessor shall be conclusive evidence of the debt." Needless to say, the issuing of such writs and the attachment of suits against the owners of all property in arrears in respect of these two years' taxes would be a means anything but pleasing to the individuals concerned, not at all helpful to the city's standing, and one which the city council would be loath to adopt. But unless the debentures are authorized the bank—by simply refusing to make further advances—would seem to have the power to offset finally the losses of the other utilities. To do that would be to "soak" the users of electric light and power for losses on the other services. Presumably the surplus of the electric light and power department is being piled up for purposes of that department alone, either to replace worn-out equipment or to buy equipment for new extensions. To divert its surplus to make up the loss in another department would be a misuse of funds. There is no advantage in doing on paper what could not be done in fact. Each utility must stand by itself, and on its own feet. The use of one is paying its way does not affect the fact that another is losing money. Instead of segregating all the utilities, in making a study of the financial position, they should be separated and dealt with individually. And taken this way the fact is that three of them are behind-hand more than three-quarters of a million dollars. How to get each of these on its feet is a problem. And there is no advantage in disguising the fact by associating them in thought with a totally distinct and separate enterprise that is accumulating a surplus on its own operation and for its own use.

And The Returned Soldier
By W. F. Stevens, Provincial Live Stock Commissioner.

To put settlers on the land and to facilitate the return to civil life of those of our soldiers who will come back from the war, are the two outstanding public questions in Western Canada today. These two ends in third, namely, to what extent can each be made to aid in the solution of the other, it may be well to look at place at this time to say a few words regarding methods of land settlement that have already been tried, and some of those that are being suggested for consideration at the present time. During the past fifteen years six methods of colonization have been in force, namely: the granting of quarter-section homesteads, grants to railway companies, to irrigation companies, half-breed scrip, South African scrip, and permission to homesteaders in the semi-arid belt to preempt a quarter-section in addition to the land they have homesteaded. The combined result, in Alberta, of all these systems has been that the area under cultivation which if collected into one block would, in 1913, have been included in a rectangle 85 miles long and 78 miles wide. At the present time it would probably be equal to a tract 84 miles square.

Little Yet Accomplished

What a little has been accomplished is certainly small compared with the area available, the amount of land alienated, and the amount of money expended for land settlement purposes by the Dominion and the Provincial Governments, by our larger cities, and by railway and irrigation companies. If real colonization has led to the assertion that the homesteading system is a failure, and to the suggestion that it should be abolished, I see no reason for pronouncing it a failure any more than any or all of the other systems that have been in force. In my opinion, instead of being abolished, it should be brought up to date and made to fit in with local conditions and present day farming methods.

I maintain that instead of being a failure, the homesteading privilege has been and can still be made a most potent factor in attracting settlers to this country and of retaining them after they have arrived, and that whatever of failure has resulted from it was not due to unsoundness of principle, but to unsuitability of the conditions upon which title would be granted, or to the way in which it is attained. Our homestead laws have made it possible to secure title to an area too small to be operated efficiently, upon the performance of very onerous conditions. Title is granted, it has been easy to acquire land, but difficult to remain on it, thus creating a condition much better adapted to dotting the country with abandoned homesteads than to the orderly passing of the land into the hands of specially fitted and well-capitalized men by keeping settlers on the land after they had been placed there.

Amend Homestead Laws

Instead of abolishing the system we should amend the conditions and make it more difficult to obtain title easier, and the duties to be performed as to area and cultivation more difficult of fulfilment. In my opinion we have by this means one of the best methods for the increase of our homesteaders in the past, and at the same time retain those who have had the benefit of experience sufficient to enable them to farm. In this way we have secured largely of both classes. The nomad left because the impulses of his unsettled nature prompted him to do so, the efficient man left because he had weakened on the fact that the outlook was not good enough.

The following facts must be taken into consideration in the successful use of land settlement is adopted, namely, that speaking in a general way, only favored districts, mixed farming cannot be successfully carried on on a quarter-section basis, and that the first standard working outfit is a four-horse outfit, and in order to maintain this outfit and keep it employed one must harvest at least 160 acres of crop every year. Even then, under average conditions, require 50 acres of summer-fallow, and to this what would be needed for buildings and garden, and there is nothing left in the quarter-section for grazing live stock.

An Unstable Proposition.

Another fact that must be recognized is this: to offer the settler a quarter-section of land and ask him to supplement it by utilizing the grazing on adjoining unoccupied land, is to offer him an unstable proposition, because he does not know how long these lands will remain unoccupied. The man of means who knows his business and who is using the land only for any permanent equipment for handling stock on so uncertain a tenure.

As regards making provision, for our returned soldiers, the majority of those who have studied and written on this question have advocated some phase of the colony idea, i.e., the setting aside of a large tract of land for settlement exclusively by ex-soldiers, erecting buildings thereon and providing sufficient equipment to begin operations; or the establishment of a huge farm by the government, of which ex-soldiers will be employed as laborers under the supervision and instruction of officials of the government.

The difficulty with the colony idea is that it involves an enormous outlay of money which the government does not possess, and would find difficult to raise. It would be perpetuating the barracks sentiment among the men, and would unfit, rather than fit, the ex-soldier for the life he must lead when he starts out for himself. The past attempts at developing farmers by giving inexperienced men a colony training has not been attended with sufficient success to warrant the application of this system to the training of as large a number of men as will have to be dealt with when the war is over.

An Important Fact.

An important fact that must be reckoned with is that among those who will return there will be many who are either physically unfit or temperamentally unsuited to farm life. To put these upon the land would be to invite failure, and some other provision must be made on their behalf.

Of those who are both physically fit and temperamentally suited to farm life, only a small percentage will be financially able to embark in the business immediately after being released from military service. By far the greater number will be looking for jobs. To meet their needs it will be necessary to have placed upon the land a class of settlers who will collectively still be large employers of labor among whom the soldiers may secure employment acquire a knowledge of the practical side of farming, and in time accumulate capital sufficient to start out on their own account. Such a class of settlers could be had by two or three months' course of instruction at a school or agricultural college. This is essentially to manage a farm for themselves.

Problem and Solution.

The problem then is: how can settlers of this class be secured?

First of all, provision must be made for supplying each of them with a sufficient amount of land to give constant employment to at least two men. A farm that is being operated by only one man is not being efficiently operated, because there are too many things to be done on a farm that one man working alone cannot do, and any system that requires the women to do much with the rough work in the field is not one that appeals to many people who speak the English language. They will do it for a time, but they demand a prospect for something better, and when a more convenient field is offer it they will seek it elsewhere.

Excepting a favored districts the quarter-section farm requires a great deal of the labor that in the old land is not done by the women because the horse-power obtainable from a reversed quarter-section is not sufficient to justify the employment of a second man. Under conditions which prevail in Alberta that is not more than 12 miles from a railway and where the rainfall approximates 20 inches per annum, should be at least 320 acres, which should be made available for homesteading one quarter-section, as at present, and by means of a second additional quarter, title to which may be secured by continuous use and the performance thereon during three of the summer months of from ten to fifteen days' labor of those professional services required by preference. The work the Canadian Pacific Railway issued a statement denying that the Pommern sunk was a new ship.

Type Must Change.

As distances from marketing facilities increase, the type of settlement must change. More of the products of the soil must be fed and greater attention must be devoted to the growing of live stock. Operations must be carried on on a larger scale, and more capital supplied to finance them. Settlement of these outlying districts must be held out in order to attract men with means sufficient to warrant the sufficient equipment for these larger undertakings.

The solution to the problem of this class to settle in these remote districts it should be made possible for them to purchase the use of core lands necessarily than that offered to those who homestead, at so much per acre or per acreage permanently than is permitted to those more conveniently situated.

Since remoteness from transportation facilities has been made the reason for granting temporary use of these larger areas, the advent of a railway into any district in which lands are thus held should be made the occasion for reducing the size of such holdings. With the completion of new lines of railway new lands will be thrown open, and these lands thus released would then be available as homesteads. The soldier should be given the first opportunity to acquire them, upon the performance of similar improvements to other settlers, but granting him preference right to his quarter-section and other settlers in case he is not able to stock it himself.

Some of the advantages that would follow the adoption of this or a similar system would be that more settlers of means and experience would be drawn hither than at present obtains.

That among these the poor could secure employment and the inexperienced obtain a knowledge of the business of farm-ing and stock raising.

The volume of business would be largely increased because of the utilization of these waste places, urban life would be stimulated thereby, and avenues of employment be thrown open in villages, towns and cities for those of our soldiers who are unsuited to rural pursuits.

Development would proceed slowly the line of live stock production which experience has taught us is the only safe line to pursue. Under such an arrangement conditions would be favorable for the training and the majority of those who would come here possessed of sufficient capital and experience to carry on the business would succeed. Likewise the soldier, the man and would unfit, rather than fit, the ex-soldier for the life he must lead when he starts out for himself. The past attempts at developing farmers by giving inexperienced men a colony training has not been attended with sufficient success to warrant the application of this system to the training of as large a number of men as will have to be dealt with when the war is over.

An Important Fact.

An important fact that must be reckoned with is that among those who will return there will be many who are either physically unfit or temperamentally unsuited to farm life. To put these upon the land would be to invite failure, and some other provision must be made on their behalf.

Of those who are both physically fit and temperamentally suited to farm life, only a small percentage will be financially able to embark in the business immediately after being released from military service. By far the greater number will be looking for jobs. To meet their needs it will be necessary to have placed upon the land a class of settlers who will collectively still be large employers of labor among whom the soldiers may secure employment acquire a knowledge of the practical side of farming, and in time accumulate capital sufficient to start out on their own account. Such a class of settlers could be had by two or three months' course of instruction at a school or agricultural college. This is essentially to manage a farm for themselves.

Problem and Solution.

The problem then is: how can settlers of this class be secured?

First of all, provision must be made for supplying each of them with a sufficient amount of land to give constant employment to at least two men. A farm that is being operated by only one man is not being efficiently operated, because there are too many things to be done on a farm that one man working alone cannot do, and any system that requires the women to do much with the rough work in the field is not one that appeals to many people who speak the English language. They will do it for a time, but they demand a prospect for something better, and when a more convenient field is offer it they will seek it elsewhere.

Excepting a favored districts the quarter-section farm requires a great deal of the labor that in the old land is not done by the women because the horse-power obtainable from a reversed quarter-section is not sufficient to justify the employment of a second man. Under conditions which prevail in Alberta that is not more than 12 miles from a railway and where the rainfall approximates 20 inches per annum, should be at least 320 acres, which should be made available for homesteading one quarter-section, as at present, and by means of a second additional quarter, title to which may be secured by continuous use and the performance thereon during three of the summer months of from ten to fifteen days' labor of those professional services required by preference. The work the Canadian Pacific Railway issued a statement denying that the Pommern sunk was a new ship.

Harbor of Battered Warships

Amsterdam, via London, June 10.—A Vaterland arriving from Germany is quoted by the Telegraaf as saying that the harbor at Heligoland is full of battered warships, including the Seydlitz, whose forward turret was torn away. The majority of her crew was killed.

London, June 10.—According to the official German account given in the Jutland battle included 1,064 men on the British cruisers Queen Mary, Invincible and 786 men on the Black Prince.

London, June 10.—The report that the German battleship Derfflinger had been sunk is reiterated in an Amsterdam dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company. It says that travellers who have arrived there from Berlin say they were told in Germany that the Derfflinger sank after the battle and while being towed to Wilhelmshaven.

The British admiralty announced the Derfflinger was believed to have been sunk, but the loss of this warship was denied by the German admiralty.

The New Frightfulness.

From the London Daily News.

To some extent the new frightfulness, like the old, will work its own remedy automatically. It will stimulate the American to that renewed sweeping of the seas which was so remarkably successful against the older type of submarine. There is no evidence that the newer types are inferior to those of the earlier campaign; on the contrary, it is certain that the new ones are more materially terrorise a certain amount of neutral shipping from the sea, but the neutral peoples are very unlikely to acquiesce for any but the briefest period in such a curtailment of their liberties.

The Racking Pains of Sciatica Rheumatism

Were Well-nigh Unbearable—After Five Years of Suffering Cure Was Effected by Dr. Chase's Medicines.

For downright excruciating pain few ailments can be compared to sciatic rheumatism. Since the condition of the sciatic nerve denotes exhaustion of the nervous system, the bodily vigor of the victim is low, and Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to nourish the starved nerves back to health and vigor.

Reports are continually coming in to us regarding the splendid results obtained in the treatment of sciatic rheumatism by using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food after each meal and Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills occasionally as a means of arousing the action of the liver, kidneys and bowels and thereby keeping the system freed of pain causing poisonous impurities.

Mr. W. J. Talbot, Edenwold, Sask., writes:—"It is a great pleasure for me to recommend Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and Nerve Food as a cure for Sciatic Rheumatism. The pain I have suffered has been well-nigh unbearable. It would start in the hips and run down the leg and to the toes, gradually getting worse. The nerves contract until one is practically useless. My doctor tried many different treatments, but could only afford relief for a time.

"For about five years I was subject to this trouble with severe attacks which would last about two months. The last attack I had was shortened to two weeks by the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and Nerve Food. This treatment was continued until I was satisfied that the cure was lasting."

This statement is endorsed by Mr. H. E. Woolley, J.P.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, six for $2.50. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills 25 cents a box, all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Company, Limited, Toronto.

ANSWERS

This department does not pretend to be infallible. It will endeavor, however, to answer correctly all queries put by readers of The Bulletin to the best of its ability, reserving the right to ignore all that are trifling or of concern only to the questioner.

To receive attention, inquiry must be signed by full name and address of the questioner. This information is not wanted for publication, but as an evidence of good faith.

Shooting a Cat

To the Bulletin: Is a person justified in shooting a cat that is worrying stock that has been helping itself to one's little chickens? SUBSCRIBER, A.D., City.

No. First law, the firing of firearms inside the city limits is prohibited. While the cat is worrying stock it would be unto consideration by a court one is justified in killing the cat in one's own hand. It would be wise to see the city police regarding action.

Retaining Horse

To the Bulletin: Could you tell me at what point on a three-horse evener that the horse is pulling. Is the one horse will be pulling exactly one-quarter of the load, the other two pulling three-eighths apiece?

W.C., Carlos, Alta.

It will depend on the length of the evener. If one horse pulls one-fourth the load the other two will pull three-fourths. Therefore, the centre clevis hole should be one-fourth the distance between the two end holes. Perhaps the light horse should be given the "long end" of the evener, as an evener of four feet between the outside holes the centre hole would be about 1 ft. 3 in. from either of these two holes.

Colossus of Rhodes

To the Bulletin: Will you kindly tell me what the Colossus was; where it was built and in what year it was built? CONSTANT READER, City.

Colossus, in antiquity a term applied generally to any statue of gigantic size (hence the adjective "colossal") and in particular to the bronze statue of the sun-god Helios at Rhodes, one of the wonders of the world, made from the spoils left by Demetrius Poliorcetes when he raised the siege of the city. The sculptor was Chares of Lindus, a native of the school of Lysippus, under whose influence the art of sculpture passed from the severely classical figures by preference. The work was begun in 292 B.C. and finished in 280, and the finished statue stood 70 cubits high and it stood near the harbor but at what point is not certain. When and from what ground, the belief that it stood with one foot on each side of the entrance to the harbor, with a beacon in the hand, and that ships passed between its legs, is not known, but the belief was current as early as the 2nd century A.D. The statue was thrown down by an earthquake about the year 224 B.C., then, after lying there for nearly 1000 years the pieces were bought by Jews from the Saracens, and probably reconverted into implements of war. Other Greek Colossi were the Apollo of Naxos; the Zeus and Hercules of Lysippus; the Zeus at Olympia (Pausanias V. 11); the Athenon, and the Athera Promachos on the Acropolis—all the work of Pheidias; and the Colossus of Nero, which was a statue of Jupiter in the Capitol; and the Colossus of Nero in the Flavian Amphitheatre, which afterwards removed by Hadrian to the north of the Colosseum, where the statue upon which it stood is still visible.

Cut Worms

To the Bulletin: Will you please tell me through the Bulletin how to get rid of cut worms?

A.F., Vegreville.

Take 100 lbs. bran, molsten slightly with water in which has been 1 lb. sugar and 1 lb. Paris green has been dissolved. Add 2 oranges, chopped fine. The mixture, of course, should be prepared in small quantity only, as they are not. It may momentarily terrorise a certain amount of neutral shipping from the sea, but the neutral peoples are very unlikely to acquiesce for any but the briefest period in such a curtailment of their liberties.

ONLY THREE MEN WOUNDED ON MAIN BRITISH FLEET

Ridiculous Claim of Germany Revealed—Enemy in Precipitate Flight Before Jellicoe

London, June 10.—A statement made by Lord Selborne in a speech at Lincoln may be taken as an official confutation of any German claim that they engaged the whole of the British grand fleet. Lord Selborne said only three men were wounded on Jellicoe's ships.

"How precipitate was the flight of the German grand fleet is shown," he said, "by the fact that only three men were wounded in the whole of Admiral Jellicoe's fleet. Not one of his ships was able to get its guns trained more than six minutes. The only one of his ships to suffer was the battleship Marlborough which was torpedoed by a submarine, but reached harbor safely.

Ran to Save Fleet

"No sensible men ever expected anything from the Germans but great efficiency. In the whole course of the action the German sailors fought well, and their strategy was right in retiring as the battle of the third phase of the battle when Admiral Jellicoe's fleet arrived off, if they wanted to preserve their fleet. It was necessary to get their battleships engaging for the mastery of the sea at this time. But after that to proclaim a great victory, and a school holiday, and to publish a speech like that of the kaiser, was making the German navy ridiculous."

Pommern Capital Ship

London, June 10.—The German warship Pommern which was sunk in the battle off Jutland was not the battleship of that name but a recently completed battle cruiser, according to a Copenhagen dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company, quoting a sea captain who is a frequent visitor to German ports. The battleship, which was completed in 1915, was torpedoed in the Baltic in July, 1915, according to the captain.

Admiralty officials here have expressed their belief to a representative of the Associated Press that the Pommern which was sunk in the great naval battle was a new capital ship. They point out that the commander of a British submarine reported that he had torpedoed and sunk the battleship Pommern on July 11, 1915, and the report claim was confirmed by the survivors of the battleship who were landed wearing her cap and band.

The sinking of a German battleship in the Baltic by a British submarine was officially announced in the House of Lords on July 21, 1915, at a time that the ship was believed to have been the Pommern, but this was promptly denied by the German government. Following the Jutland battle the Admiralty officially issued a statement denying that the Pommern sunk was a new ship.

Harbor of Battered Warships

U.S. Ambassador Sees Vast Change In Luxemburg Where People Are Starving

The Hague, June 9—(via London, June 10)—Relentless economic pressure is driving Luxemburg into the arms of Germany, despite the fact that the sympathies of seven-eighths of the population are the other way, said United States Minister Henry Van Dyke, who returned Friday evening from a tour which included the little Grand Duchy. The food problem has become acute under the industrial population, mostly miners, iron workers and glove makers, of whom 40,000 were employed or on half time.

Mr. Van Dyke, who last visited Luxemburg a few months ago, said he noticed a striking reduction in the number of German troops in the grand duchy. The German troops, who formerly sang as they marched through the streets now are silent and subdued.

As to Civic Government.

From the Detroit Free Press.

An exception is offered for Denver's reversion to the older system. The people of the city, it is reported, discovered that boss nature did not change in government machinery and that officials who had been incompetent under one system remained incompetent under the other. And, while it must be remembered that the centralization of power effected by the commission plan increases possibilities for abuse by untrustworthy officials. The success of a frequent experiment seems to be that the first essential to wise and lasting municipal success is the ability to the need for betterment. With a body of sound public opinion at work it matters comparatively little by what machinery it operates. Without sound public opinion, no kind of machinery will get good results in government.

Breaks Through Cordon.

A Copenhagen dispatch says the British steamer Dunrobin has succeeded in getting through the Sound on the way to England. She has been lying in the Swedish port of Lulea, a considerable way up the Gulf, since the beginning of the war. The Dunrobin was chased by seventy armed German trawlers, but the Swedish torpedo destroyer Castor, in command of Prince Carl of Sweden, appeared and conveyed her safely through the narrow waters.

A SUFFERER FROM KIDNEY TROUBLE FOR TWO YEARS.

Store Closes Wednesday at One o'Clock During June, July and August

The "Bay" Summer Service is a Model of Wartime Efficiency

In times like these it's good to have an organization such as this Store depends upon to guarantee quality and plenty in spite of harried markets. With branches of the Hudson's Bay institution permanently established in London, Paris, New York and Montreal, this Store is able at all times to take full advantage of favorable conditions abroad and to forestall rising markets. As a result, the "Bay" Summer service is of a more far-reaching scope and character as only the few stores can equal—and these few only in the largest cities.

In our daily news it's impossible to enumerate all the good things that have been gathered here—everything that you are apt to need to make Summertime enjoyable. And perhaps what makes even better reading is the remarkable success that has attended Hudson's Bay efforts to control prices. War-time extravagance so far has had but little chance to work havoc with economy. Here's the good news we print each day—and hope it's one of each paper. It is of special interest to those having Summer shopping to do—and who are planning that every dollar shall bring its value-best.

An era of expansion, based upon public approval and backed by the real worth of the service given, is entered upon next week by the Empress theatre with the adoption of the Triangle as its byword. Triangle programs its attraction offered the people. Films from this new, but already famous corporation, the company that pleases the "400" of New York after charging an admittance of $2.00 per seat—$1.00 for boxes—will be shown at the Empress theatre four days each week. Triangle programs are unique, in that they each contain a double feature, one a drama, the other a comedy.

The new order of things starts this week, with "Between Men," the drama, starring Wm. S. Hart, and "Dizzie Heights and Daring Hearts," the comedy for Monday and Tuesday; on Wednesday and Thursday comes Douglas Fairbanks in "The Lamb," directed by D. W. Griffiths, and the Keystone comedy, "My Valet," featuring three well known stars, Raymond Hitchcock, beautiful Mabel Normand and Mack Sennett. These productions come to Edmonton direct from the Knickerbocker theatre and the new million dollar Rialto theatre in New York, where prices are popular at $2.00.

The Triangle idea was conceived by H. E. Aitken, vice president of the Triangle Film Corporation. Mr. Aitken is an idealist and he firmly believes in the motion picture as a permanent source of entertainment for people in every walk of life. In organizing the Triangle company his object was to produce clean and dignified plays that "go under the skin" of the masses. In putting his ideas into practical operation he associated with himself three of the leading motion picture geniuses of the world, David W. Griffith, supervisor of all fine arts productions; Thos. H. Ince, producer of New York's present day photoplay success, Civilization, a production that is at least the equal in every way to Griffith's "Birth of a Nation"; and Mack Sennett, the genius of the Keystone, the man who makes the whole world laugh, and who is responsible for Charles Chaplin, Ford Sterling and many other comedians.

These three directors form the Triangle, from which the corporation gets its name. Their plays recommend themselves. They do not require flashy title, nor do they make their appeal for success with sensational posters. They stand on their merits as plays, and the public throughout the world is gradually coming to the realization that a Triangle play carries with it a distinction and a special mark of quality.

Thousands and thousands of dollars, many thousands of people and unlimited resources are behind the Triangle plays. The big person hardly appreciated the work necessary in turning out each production and the amount of mental energy consumed, besides actual dollars and cents. From the scenario to the actual finish that goes the rub six stages of development in the Griffith, Ince and Sennett studies; preparing the manuscript, laying out the scenes and casting the characters; technical construction of the plays, which also includes making special settings; finding of locations; rehearsing the performers; photographing of the scenes; editing and assembling the negative.

It should be understood by those who witness Triangle films that in taking pictures scenes are not taken in consecutive order; in other words the hero may marry a girl before he ever meets her. Scenes are taken according to convenience; for instance, all scenes taken in a dining room, whether they follow each other consecutively in the story or not are taken at the one time. Each scene has an index number, and latterly in assembling, all the numbers are placed in consecutive order, which automatically produces a smooth sequence of the story. In the editing of the film in order to get it down to the required length of from one hour and a half to be eliminated; the waste at times is often as much as fifty per cent.

The Triangle corporation works under the idea that the people, with the money they pay for admission, influence the manufacturer either in the production of good, clean plays, or plays that will appeal to the morbid. The corporation asks the public to buy its amusement as it buys its butter and eggs; motion pictures are mental nourishment, and if they are indigestible and impure they will cause indigestion of the mind, just as surely as impure foods cause derangement of the stomach.

SALE OF SEATS WILL OPEN THIS MORNING

The sale of seats for the New York Metropolitan Grand Opera Company performances opens this morning at the Empress theatre. The management report that the interest in this great attraction is very keen, hundreds of inquiries coming in regarding it. An early selection of seats is advised as indications are that the house will be sold out well in advance of the first performance.

WILL GIVE CONCERT ON THURSDAY NIGHT.

In aid of the work of the Vacant Lots Garden Club in city beautification, cleaning up lots and making them useful, an entertainment will be given in the Empire theatre on Thursday evening. The program will consist of a repetition of the cantata "The Quarrel Among the Flowers," given by over 50 children, under direction of Mrs. M. A. Pimlott, readings by Mrs. Fallis and Miss Myrtle Merrill, and dances by some of Mrs. Pimlott's pupils. The soloists for the evening are Miss Ressie Pilkie, Miss Roxyna Phillips, David Jones and Master Jimmy McGregor, gold medallist at the, Alberta Musical Festival 1916. The accompanists will be Miss Ethel Brownridge, Miss Helen MacGregor and Wilbur Grant. Furniture has been loaned by James Ramsey, Ltd. Home-made candy will be sold during the evening by Misses Ross, Griffiths, MacDonald, McLean, Chapron, MacIntyre and Aikin.

CHAMPION PEDESTRIAN IS PANTAGES FEATURE.

George N. Brown, the champion pedestrian of the world, is one of the outstanding features on this week's bill at the Pantages theatre, which opens at the matinee this afternoon for a week's engagement in this city. Out of 187 professional races, Brown has lost but four, and the four in which he was defeated were under such handicaps that he hardly expected to be the victor. In vaudeville this champion of the walking world is able to present one of the most novel and instructive acts in the vaudeviles. He is ably assisted by Willie Weston, a relative of the veteran long distance walker, in his vaudeville offering. Young Weston is the boy scout walking champion of the continent. In Winnipeg last week, Brown staged several interesting matches with a detachment of the American Legion of that city. The mayor of Winnipeg was the official starter in one of the races which covered a distance of five miles. In Edmonton this week Brown will give all local aspirants to the championship title an opportunity to contest against him in walking races for either short or long distances.

As another feature for the current week, Geo. Choos presents "The Midnight Follies," a musical comedietta complete with pretty girls, funny comedians, and elaborate scenery and costumes. Arthur Silber and Eva North are two local favorites who return with "The Bashful Man and the Maid." Other acts include The Four Haley Sisters in "Songs"; and Wm. de Hollis and Company in "The Admiral's Reception."

"NOBODY HOME" MAKES A POPULAR HIT

Any time an audience goes out of a theatre after a musical comedy performance laughing and humming the principal songs you may rest assured that particular show has made a hit and will make a lot of money. That is one reason why John P. Slocum knows that he will buy a big roll next week at this year. His musical absurdity entitled "Nobody Home" is just bristling with musical gems and song hits and never a performance occurs but what the song boy reaps a rich harvest.

Just such a play is John P. Slocum's delightfully droll and tunefully exquisite musical gem "Nobody Home," New York clung to it for nearly a year, Boston would not let it go for three months and everywhere else the managers either want the engagement extended or an immediate return. Only quality brings these results and "Nobody Home is full of it. "Nobody Home" comes to the Empire Theatre the first half of this week, with a matinee Wednesday. Tonight is Shriner's night.

"THE RACE" SHOWS AT THE MONARCH TODAY

Victor Moore, who recently created such a sensation in the Jesse L. Lasky production of "Chimmie Fadden Out West," will be seen at the Monarch theatre the first three days this week in "The Race," supported by Anita King. "The Paramount Girl," and an excellent Lasky cast.

"The Race" is a thrilling drama, founded upon Miss King's recent transcontinental motor trip, which she made absolutely alone from Los Angeles to New York city.

Last summer, Miss King, who is an enthusiastic motorist, was convinced that she could make the long transcontinental drive in an automobile, unattended. She secured permission from Jesse L. Lasky, the head of the company. On September 1st she left the position of secretary to Mr. Lasky in Frisco carrying messages from the Mayor of that city to Mayor Mitchell of New York. It took this brave young woman forty-nine days to complete the journey—twenty-nine of these days it rained continuously and she had to battle through the mud over the major portion of trip.

Her entire trip was filled with thrilling incidents, many of which are incorporated in the picture and were filmed at the exact locality in which they happened.

THE DEATH OF KITCHENER IS SUBJECT

Rt. Rev. Bishop Gray, the Ven. Archdeacon Webb and Rev. Canon Gould service itself was of a special memorial character, the sermon dealing with the lesson being particularly selected. The special prayers were bequests for the speedy conclusion of the war, protection for those fighting, support for those suffering, help for those going forth to minister to the sick and wounded, mercy for the fallen and for "the blessed issue, beyond mere earthly peace, of restored brotherhood among nations, the enlargement of the Redeemer's kingdom, and the reunion of Christendom in one faith and love."

During the service the choir sang the anthem "Blessed Are the Dead-which from Spohr's "Last Judgment."

First Baptist

Carl Kitchener as a special type of Briton, the Briton clear and unbending to the end in view and refusing to let go, was the picture drawn by the Rev. P. W. Patterson, at the First Baptist church last night. The preacher gave a remarkable survey of the chief characteristics, the life and work of Earl Kitchener which gripped the attention of his big congregation from start to finish. Kitchener as a man isolated a man friendless, roving among his fellows as a human "thing of judgment," may not appear at first glance a very attractive character, but the Rev. Mr. Patterson showed how this very isolation had been brought about by the man's devotion to his task. This devotion caused an utter forgetfulness of self and because of this selflessness, he was friendless. Kitchener could give no thought to friends when they stood in the way of duty. The preacher traced how Kitchener was selected as the one man for the task when the call came, and how in spite of criticism and the clamour of a certain section of the press, he kept on unheeding to his work. Now he was acclaimed, and although at first the news seemed like victory for the enemy, they knew that his work had reached that stage when it could be carried on by others, and the victory won which he had organized. They would have liked, said the preacher, to have had Kitchener remarked by a little more of the genial qualities of human nature, but he was the victim of his own experience and position.

The church was filled to overflowing, and the greatest attention was bestowed upon the whole of the service, which was of a form most happily chosen. Beginning with the hymn "Onward Christian Soldiers," the spirit of the occasion was maintained when Arnold Smith, of Winnipeg, followed with Kipling's "Recessional," and previous to the address the choir sang "Rule Britannia," which was followed by all joining in singing "God Save the King." After the address David Jones sang "Sound An Alarm," from "Judas Maccabeus."

SPORTSMEN'S BATTALION

turned out in strength to bid the soldiers what may be farewell previous to going to the front.

The presentation of the instruments for the band, consisting of 36 pieces, costing $2,500, by Mrs. Caroline Poucher, regent of the Lloyd George Chapter of the Daughters of the Empire, was the event of the evening, after which refreshments were served and dancing indulged in to the mid night hour.

Capt. James M. Douglas, M.P., who officiated as chairman, congratulated the officers and men of the battalion on receiving such a fine gift, and said he was sure the boys of the 202nd would prove themselves worthy of the appreciation of Edmonton citizens when it came their turn to uphold the honor of Canadian arms at the front. Concluding his remarks with complimentary comments on the splendid physique, mental calibre and bearing of the men in the Sportsmen's Battalion, Capt. Douglas said it was a real general feeling that in Col. Bowen the city was sending out the best commander that had left Alberta or even Canada.

Presentation Made.

Mrs. Poucher, in making the presentation, addressed the battalion as follows:

"Lieut.-Col. Bowen, officers and men of the 202nd Battalion,—Some months ago the Lloyd George Chapter of the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire conceived the idea of procuring band instruments for your battalion. Since then they have diligently prosecuted this work and through subscriptions from a generous public and the proceeds of a series of teas and entertainments they have accomplished their object.

"With great pleasure I now present these instruments to you to be the absolute property of this battalion until its duties cease and it is disbanded. Then the officers of the battalion are to distribute the instruments in a way, that will be equitable. On behalf of the chapter and various donors I extend our congratulations to your battalion and all its members."

Lieut.-Col. Bowen's Reply.

Lieut.-Col. Bowen thanked all who had helped to make such a splendid gift possible and assured them that the officers and men of his battalion deeply appreciated what the Edmonton citizens had in general done for them. That the Sportsmen's Battalion would acquit themselves in a way to demonstrate with the esteem in which they were held was also emphasized by the popular commanding officer of the 202nd.

Immediately he had concluded a stirring selection was rendered by the band on the new instruments.

Col. R. B. Edwards paid a hearty tribute to the battalion, saying that he had seen none better in physique and military bearing. In Col. Bowen they had a commander of whom they might well be proud.

A word should be added as to the hospitality shown by the men of the Sportsmen's Battalion during the evening. Everything in the line of refreshments was placed at the service of the visitors of whom there were 2,000 or more. Dancing was enjoyed on an excellent floor until midnight, when hearty farewells were exchanged between the soldiers and the fellow visitors.

THIS RECRUIT HAD LOTS OF CONFIDENCE

Jimmy Callahan said that he liked to see a young ball player confident and self-possessed. That he had one recruit on the White Sox some time ago who had a little too much self-confidence.

"I remember," said Jimmy, "that this fellow was highly opinionated and that he thought he knew everything that came along. In fact, he knew so much about baseball that we decided the big leaguer hadn't caught up to his standard and that we ought to struggle along without him.

"He picked up a scientific paper one time and read the account of one of those big wrecks they were pulling off on one of the eastern roads a few years ago. In this same paper was the announcement that a reward was offered by the railroad of $10,000 to any one who would invent—a device that would absolutely prohibit wrecks.

"The fellow studied over a minute. There was a telegraph office in the lobby, and he promptly wired to the railroad:

"'I accept your offer; send on that check.'"

EDMONTON MILITARY ATHLETICS WILL BE CONTINUED BY LOCAL BATTALIONS IN SARCEE CAMP

Not Possible to Carry Out Full Program as Originally Planned Because of Departure of Troops — Track Athletic Championship Only Branch Decided to Date—Interesting Races in Baseball and Football Leagues.

The departure of the majority of the Edmonton battalions for Sarcee Camp has meant the suspension of activities of the various military athletic leagues which were organized in this city early in the spring. As far as is known, in no other part of Canada did a community take the initiative in insisting that all but military sport should be abandoned until the end of the war, as did Edmonton, and then follow it up by the actual organization of military sport upon a systematised and proper basis. The action of the Alberta Amateur Athletic Union in practically outlawing all other sport but that of a military nature, was the result of agitation started in this city. The same organization that had charge of the overseeing of amateur sport took the initiative in the organization of a central military athletic committee which attended to the formation of autonomical leagues.

The general scheme was that all around athletic efficiency should be encouraged and for that reason an all 'round championship trophy was provided.

Until the last week or so the competition for this was conducted without any difficulties, but the departure of the battalions to Sarcee camp somewhat disarranged some of the competitions. However, they will be continued in the south and the general scheme outlined carried out.

The 202nd battalion left last night for Calgary, and upon their arrival in the south the loose ends of the threads of organization will be picked up. The 233rd and the 218th are remaining here, for a time at least, and unless they leave shortly, they will be unable to play their remaining games and their standing in the league will remain unchanged.

The 196th, who have been quite a factor in all of the competitions, are expecting to go to Camp Hughes, near Winnipeg, and they too, will be out of the competition. But the 151st, the 151at, the 194th, and the 202nd are to be together in Calgary for a while, and they will make up the Edmonton Military Baseball League of Sarcee camp.

In awarding the all 'round championship, three lines of sport were selected to be classed as major sports: Baseball, football and track athletics.

The track athletics championship was decided on May 24th at the Exhibition grounds, the 202nd coming out ahead, the 138th getting second place, and the 194th third place.

Baseball Championship.

The baseball league championship is not yet decided, and there will be some merry battles down in Calgary before the ultimate victor is discovered. At the present time the 138th and the 202nd Battalions are tied for first place, each having won four and lost one. The 194th are third with a standing of .600, four wins and two losses being to their credit.

The following is the standing to date:

| | W. | L. | Pct. |
|---|---|---|---|
| 138th Battalion | 4 | 1 | .800 |
| 202nd Battalion | 4 | 1 | .800 |
| 196th Battalion | 2 | 2 | .500 |
| 194th Battalion | 3 | 3 | .500 |
| 151st Battalion | 2 | 2 | .500 |
| 233rd Battalion | 1 | 5 | .167 |
| 218th Battalion | 0 | 4 | .000 |

Football League.

The football league finds the 194th Battalion in important factor with the 202nd a good second.

The football league standing to date is:

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| 194th Battalion | 5 | 1 | 0 10 |
| 202nd Battalion | 4 | 1 | 1 9 |
| 218th Battalion | 2 | 3 | 0 4 |
| 138th Battalion | 1 | 2 | 1 3 |
| 196th Battalion | 1 | 4 | 0 2 |
| 151st Battalion | 0 | 2 | 2 2 |

Cricket Games.

Cricket, which was listed as one of the "minor" sports has not been as active as baseball or football, but there have been several league games played, and at the present time the 138th stand first, and the 202nd second.

Sufficient interest has been created in the various leagues to enable them to keep going even in Calgary where military sport has not been a very important factor in the quiet life of that city, where golf and civilian baseball seems to be the chief method of driving dull care away.

NATIONALS NOW IN LEAD OF THE N.L.U.

MONTREAL, June 10.—Shamrocks and Nationals had a regular old time lacrosse battle today for the leadership of the National Lacrosse Union and the Frenchmen won by 7 to 4. There was a good crowd out when the teams took the field included in which were a large number of invalided soldiers from the Grey Nursery Hospital in this city. Frenchmen got first goal in 8 minutes through Pitre and at the end of the first period led 4 to 1. They were never headed but the Irishmen made a gallant attempt to even it up in the last quarter, which was so rough the spectators broke in on the field and a couple of free-for-alls was the result.

The Greatest Athlete. —By Ripley.

By ROBERT L. RIPLEY.

Bob Simpson of Bosworth, Mo., is the greatest athlete in the world.

The performances of this phenom from the University of Missouri during the last few weeks stamp him without parallel in athletic history.

Three times he has beaten the old mark for the 120-yard high hurdles of fifteen seconds flat, held by Smithson, Kelly, and Garrels. He first startled the world by clearing the sticks for a mark of 14 4-5 seconds. The ero-dulous didn't believe it. A week later he repeated the performance in the Missouri-Kansas dual meet at Columbia, Mo. Then a week ago Saturday Simpson outdid that when he established the remarkable world's record of 14 3-5 seconds for the high hurdles.

We are wise to the fact that this modest young fellow from the middle west is right now a better all-round sprinter, jumper, and hurdler than Alvin Kraenzlein was on his best day. Simpson's performance at Columbia, Mo., proved that. In the meet between Missouri and Kansas Simpson won five events—every one of them a championship performance.

He took the 120-yard dash in 10 seconds and the 220 yards in 22 seconds. The high hurdles he negotiated in 14 4-5 seconds, and the low hurdles in 24 seconds flat. Then to top off his afternoon's work he went into the broad jump and cleared 23 feet 6 inches.

Simpson was the first athlete on record to beat 15 seconds for the 120 high hurdles. Bob did it once, and nobody but the men holding the watches believed it. Since that time a couple of the Californians duplicated the feat, and Simpson promptly went out and did 14 3-5 seconds, which rates him about three and one-half yards faster than Fred Murray of Stanford, who won the intercollegiate championship in the Harvard Stadium last Saturday. Now the experts are having trouble swallowing the 14 3-5 seconds, but they've got to do it before the summer season is ended, for Bob is going to do it again.

STRONG MAN OF 218TH WILL DO SEVERAL STUNTS

Five Hundred Pound Rock to be Smashed Upon His Chest at Gymkhana This Evening

The 218th Battalion does not intend to allow the impression to become general that all of Edmonton's soldiers are down at Sarcee Camp, Calgary. The Irish Guards are here still, very much so, and tonight at the Horse Show building the members of the battalion have planned a big athletic carnival, otherwise known as a gymkhana. The entertainment will be in aid of the battalion funds for the purchase of musical instruments, music, etc., which play such an important part in the life of every battalion.

The program arranged is a very varied one and will interest young and old alike. Everything from a battle royal to a scenic spectacle is the Frontiersmen is on the bill of fare.

In addition to the features already announced several other attractions have been added, one of which is a stunt put on by one of the members of the battalion, who allows a 500 pound rock to be placed upon his chest and broken with sledge hammers.

Squad drill by a platoon of Russians will be another especially interesting feature. The drill will first be presented in Russian fashion with Russian commands, etc., and then the same evolutions will be gone through according to Canadian regulations.

A big advance booking of seats has been reported and without a doubt a large crowd will see this first big entertainment by the 218th Battalion.

218th WANTS GAMES.

The Bulletin has been requested to announce on behalf of the football team of the 218th Battalion, that this organization is willing to arrange exhibition games with any clubs in the city. As the 218th Battalion football team is the only one of the members of the inter-battalion football league remaining in the city it is anxious to keep in trim for the championship series when they get an opportunity to meet the teams which are now at Sarcee Camp.

MISSIONARY TELLS OF STRUGGLE TO REACH FAMOUS BLONDE ESKIMOS

Rev. W. H. Fry, Who Recently Left Edmonton For His Far-North Mission Station of Herschell Island, Gives Graphic Description of His Two-Year Effort to Take the Gospel to Heathen Eskimos—His Theory of Blonde Traits of Far-North Canadians

The following article was written for the Bulletin by the Rev. W. H. Fry, who left Edmonton recently with his bride for Herschell Island, on the Arctic coast, where a permanent Anglican mission station is to be established. Mr. Fry is famous because of the fact that he is the first missionary who attempted to carry the gospel to the Blonde Eskimos, discovered by Stefansson. He was compelled to return when only ninety miles from the point where he expected to see them.

The blonde Eskimo that Stefansson discovered and all the neighboring tribes of Eskimo, are still heathen. No missionary has ever yet reached them with the gospel of a Saviour for them. They still practise the Shamanism common to all Eskimos who have not yet been enlightened by Christianity. The missionaries of the Mackenzie River Diocese have known for many years of the existence of these heathen Eskimos, but lack of funds, and men, inaccessibility and proper equipment have made it impossible for them to take the gospel to this remote people.

In July of 1912, Bishop Stringer, who was then commissary for the Diocese of Mackenzie River, decided that an attempt should be made to reach these heathen Eskimos, consequently I was commissioned to seek to get in touch with them.

I set out in the little mission schooner, accompanied by a party of Eskimos who were travelling in their own whale boats, and at their own expense, hoping the open water season would be travelled in our boats as far eastward as Cape Parry, a distance of some 400 or 500 miles from Fort Macpherson, which is our chief mission station of the far north, where Archdeacon Whittaker resides. When we were at Cape Parry winter overtook us, and we were obliged to lay up our boats there and make Cape Parry our winter quarters. It appeared to us at that time quite possible for a small party of us to continue our journey by dog-sledge, after making suitable accommodation for ourselves and the housing of our goods.

Often on Starvation's Edge.

The winter, however, proved to be very severe, and bears and seals unusually scarce. Our dogs became thin through insufficient food, and the Eskimos discouraged by constant failure with the hunting. The winter was a hard time for us all; we were frequently on the border of starvation, which was only staved off by a most careful use of our imported provisions. We and our dogs worked hard every day, at all kinds of bad weather, during the long darkness of the Arctic night, in hopes of procuring a bear or a seal. We killed some of our dogs out of distress to them, and so that we ourselves might not see them walking about moving about in search of a morsel to eat, wistfully looking into our faces as though asking, "Why do you not feed us?" as they shivered with the cold.

With the coming of spring the hungry times passed away, and the day came when an Eskimo and myself started out from Cape Parry with two heavily loaded sleds and six of the best dogs we could procure, in an attempt to cover the stretch of uninhabited country—a distance of about 250 miles—between our winter quarters and Cape Bexley, where we hoped to see the people we had set out to reach, the heathen Eskimos. Our progress was very slow, both on account of our heavy sleds with but six dogs, and also because of the "hummocky" ice which we encountered almost the whole length of our journey.

Bleak and Uninhabited.

Traveling in the north, on the Arctic Ocean, even under the most favorable conditions is never easy. But it is possible, at times, to travel by sled in the Arctic, over country which is known, and where it is possible to get food, warmth and shelter in wayside houses—even though they be Eskimo houses—with some measure of comfort. But Ihnikaak—the Eskimo companion—found myself were to travel over a country now depopulated, and where we expected to see no friendly shelter after our day's travel was over; where we could get no more provisions, unless we were able to kill something by the way; and where the coast was not known to us, and had not been correctly charted.

We were able to carry on our sleds food for about 14 days, for ourselves and dogs, besides ammunition, traps, nets, guns, a coaloil primus stove with fuel, a tent, and bedding, etc. We intended to hunt as we went along and cache food as we journeyed for our return trip. We got along in this way splendidly far better than we had hoped, until we reached Tuney Point. There my Eskimo companion fell sick, and was, after a short while, unable to walk or help himself, so that he needed my constant assistance. This meant that neither of us did any hunting, and that we could only continue to travel with difficulty, while our food was rapidly being consumed. Four days of this state of affairs showed us the folly of continuing our march. My companion had "snow horse, iceread of better, as we had hoped, and constantly urged me to abandon my object and return. I was, however, exceedingly reluctant to go back without accomplishing by aim, and tried to persuade Ihnikaak to make a great effort to get well and continue. I could not abandon him, and he said he was too sick to proceed further, so that, intensely disappointed, after a delay of two days, we began to retrace our steps. We arrived back at our base at Cape Parry safely. Although we were travelling a month we did not see the people we expected to see, and were within 90 miles of Cape Bexley, where we imagined we should have seen them.

Next Winter Without Supplies.

When we had started from Fort McPherson, we expected to continue during a second year if we were not able to do the whole journey in one year; but when summer came we had far too little in the way of ammunition and provisions to make another attempt with so large a party of Eskimos. I therefore suggested that one or two Eskimos only should accompany me in the mission boat, in another effort, while the others of our party should travel overland with our sled dogs. This, however, did not commend itself to the Eskimos, who thought that we all ought to return for more ammunition, etc., before proceeding eastward again. We consequently decided to go back to Cape Parry, replenish our supplies, and then commence again.

That year of 1913, when Stefansson's ship, the Karluk, was lost, the Arctic Ocean was so choked with ice that we were without supplies. The vessel carrying the mission supplies, the schooner "Elvira," was wrecked and went to the bottom, taking our sorely needed provisions with her. After exciting encounters with the ice our little sailing boat reached Cape Bathurst, but we knew that no big ships could safely venture those ice-choked seas to bring provisions to us there. It was, therefore, essential that we move still further westward to some good fishing place, where we could procure fish in sufficient quantities to to tide us over the coming winter. We set sail, therefore, for the mouth of the Mackenzie river, where we knew the people and the country, and hoped to be there in time for the whole needed supply of fish.

Providence seemed against us, for before we were able to surmount the almost insuperable obstacles to navigation and get to the Eskimo village "Kittigazuit," at the mouth of the eastern-most branch of the Mackenzie Delta, winter was upon us. When we did arrive I saw Mr. Young, a fellow missionary, who had run out of provisions also, and who had left the station in order to get supplies from ships supposed to have been at Herschell Island, but which did not arrive. Here the Eskimos in my party separated to hunt for themselves, and get what fish they could.

Mr. Young and myself "hatched" together for a few months. We killed most of our dogs, and we ourselves ate the fish that had been caught during the summer for his dogs. This fish was decidedly "high," and would have been tempered even by anybody but an Eskimo, but our only complaint was that we could not get sufficient of it. Thus ended the first attempt to take the missionary message to the Blonde Eskimo.

Origin of the Eskimos.

It has been my privilege to speak to many audiences in Canada as they are interested in Eskimos, but wherever I have gone I have found that people are specially interested in the "Blonde Eskimos"; moreover it seems to me that few people have clearly who these people are, and the story of their descendants.

In 872 A.D., Iceland had already been discovered and colonized by Scandinavians. A century onward from that time the entire coast line was populated by Scandinavian folk, who spent the greater part of their time in plunder and piracy.

During the latter part of the tenth century a man, "Eric the Red," by name, was outlawed from Norway for murder. He sailed for Iceland and settled there. But after a very short lapse of time he was outlawed also from Iceland for a period of three years. Before this time a Scandinavian sailor named Gunahjorn had reported that he had seen land to the westward of Iceland, and which he himself had not landed. Eric no doubt knew of these reports and being unable to return to Norway, turned to the west and set sail for the new land reported there. Fortune favoured this recklessly bold pioneer, for he landed on the south-western shores of a country he named Greenland, where he spent the three years of his exile. When he returned to Iceland after this absence of three years, he gave a favorable account of the country he had discovered, calling it "Greenland," as the Saga naively says, because "He thought the people would all the more desire to settle the country if it had a fair name." Eric advertised his discoveries so successfully that in 985 a fleet of 25 vessels sailed from the west coasts of Iceland for Greenland. Some of these vessels were wrecked, others turned back, but 14 of them reached their destination. We have no record of the number of men, but it is probable that not less than 500 persons landed together with cattle, and with all their household goods and implements. Thus began a thriving farming community.

Christianity in 1000, A.D.

About the year 1000, A.D., Christianity was brought to Greenland and from that time onward we have records of the colony in the Icelandic sagas and annals of Iceland, but also in the archives of Rome. In the 12th century the colony was in a flourishing condition, having a population of some 2,000 or more persons. It was there at that time—14 churches, two monasteries, a nunnery and a bishop—Had time, however, came to the colony when the Norwegian king established a trade monopoly, which gave the exclusive right to trade to a company of merchants in Bergen, and which so cramped the energies of the Greenlanders to build or sail their own ships or deal with anyone not connected with this company.

When the Scandinavians first settled Southwest Greenland, they found there the ruins of houses, which indicated that Eskimos had visited the country before they themselves had, but for some reason the former inhabitants had disappeared, and the early settlers did not see them or have any contact with them. About the middle of the 14th century, however, the Eskimos came from the north and often fought with the Scandinavians, and in 1341 the settlement entirely was destroyed.

At this time certain circumstances combined to cut off Europe from Greenland—one was the Black Death, which swept Europe at that time, another the compelling interest of war in Europe to all most other things, and yet another was the attacks made by the confederate merchants of the Hanse towns upon Bergen. There came the intrepid English sailors, who rediscovered Greenland. In 1585, John Davis sailed up the strait, which still bears his name, and the navigators who followed him brought to the attention of Europe the Eskimo, who proved to be the same inhabitants of the district in which the Scandinavians had previously flourished. What none of the Scandinavians has, from that day to this, explained is the mystery. Had the early English navigators been keen they might have cleared up the mystery, but they handed the disappearance of the Scandinavians.

Where Did Scandinavians?

The facts compel us to face three questions, viz.

1. Were the Scandinavians exterminated by the onslaughts of the Eskimos, by some epidemic, or by starvation?

2. Cut off from Europe, did those Scandinavians survive the attacks of the Eskimos mingle and intermarry with them?

3. Did the Scandinavians migrate northward and westward until they found the Eskimos of the Arctic Ocean adjacent to the northern shores of Canada?

Mr. Vilhjalmur Stefansson thinks they did the last, i.e., that the Scandinavian settlers moved northward from the Southwestern Greenland and Eastern Greenland, until they reached Victoria Island, where a blonde type of Eskimo now lives. He may be right or he may be wrong. Further investigation may prove or disprove this theory, propounded by Mr. Stefansson, makes them the descendants of "Eric the Red," and of the Scandinavians who first colonized Greenland. My personal opinion does not fully with that of Mr. Stefansson on this point.

What Caused Blonde Traits?

The Franklin expedition, Franklin's last and fatal expedition took place. The ship in which Franklin sailed had to be "frozen in" and was deserted. What became of them? Records accounted for half of them but never come known to us. But the others! Prevented from returning to their own country they probably cast in their lot with the Eskimo. This is to me the most reasonable explanation of the blonde traits to be found in these people, and this is substantiated by Dr. Rae, who found relics of his end in the vicinity of Victoria Land, the island where these people now dwell. According to Mr. Stefansson, the number of Eskimos exhibiting blonde traits is very considerable, but not but a few in a tribe of 200—300 people.

Is it new to any who read this that there are whole tribes of heathen in this Canada of ours, who have not yet heard about our God; never yet had the Gospel preached to them? It is to those tribes that the Church is working to take the "Good News." But the work is difficult and needs your help. You would not send a soldier to France and expect him to do good work without good equipment and plenty of ammunition. Yet now often the missionary is sent to the Christian battle front with poor means and poor equipment and expected to do good service. There is still no church on the whole of the Arctic coast of Canada for Eskimo worship, neither is there one decent house in possession of the mission for the missionary to live in. When the Church of God arouses to a sense of the Arctic's need and do the work as it ought to be done, the people of these remote parts will be Christian, not heathen. Your sympathy and help for this cause is worth while, yes, well worth while, for even apart from the tremendous spiritual results, when these Eskimos know Christ, they know the power that helps them to live as men, and not as beasts.

Majority Favor Union.

A special committee appointed by the Presbyterian general assembly at Winnipeg, to examine the vote of the Presbyteries on church union reported to the assembly today that they found a large vote in favor of union. The committee found that the 76 presbyteries voted in this way: For union, 52; against union, 13; ties, 3; irrelevant, 2; rejected, 1; no returns, 5.

Was Troubled With BOILS
ALL OVER HIS BODY.

When the blood becomes impure the first symptoms manifesting themselves are a breaking out on some part of the body of various sorts of bad blood troubles, such as boils, pimples, abscesses, ulcers, etc.

How many times have you met a friend with a handkerchief tied around his neck, and have asked him; "What is the matter with you?" "Oh! I have a boil on the back of my neck; I guess I will have to take something for my blood."

The best blood cleansing remedy on the market to-day is Burdock Blood Bitters, and the speediest and most thorough method of expelling all the useless and corrupt matter from the blood is to use this old and well tried remedy that has been on the market for the past forty years.

Mr. W. E. Cockerill, Golden, B.C., writes: "I was troubled with boils all over my body, and my blood was very bad. I tried all kinds of medicines and salves, but got no relief. I had to quit work, as I could not seem to do anything. My boss told me to use Burdock Blood Bitters, after I had told him I had tried nearly everything else. I got one bottle of B.B.B., and before I had finished it the boils were all gone. It is the best blood cleanser I have ever taken. I have told several others who were suffering with boils, and they all say it is great medicine. I am forty-seven years of age, but I feel like sixteen since I got rid of the boils."

B.B.B. is manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.
